The Silicon Valley Chapter Informer

Inspired
By: James Thomas

The Silicon Valley Chapter was excited for this year's Veterans Day Parade. All participants were dressed in uniforms, vehicles shining, and the bands tuning up. As we were decorating the van, I noticed a young man standing alone dressed for the parade.

I politely approached him to see what organization he was representing. His name was Nathan McCully representing Ship 300 Spartans. He was expecting 15 people to be there, but he was the only one to show up. His dedication, motivation, and willingness to continue was inspiring. The Greek 300 Spartan soldiers that stayed behind were to hold off the Persian army as long as possible.

Nathan stood tall, alone, while proudly representing Ship 300 Spartans.
